

Winebow Appointed Exclusive U.S. Importer of Tullibardine Scotch Whisky

New York, NY (February 19, 2014) – Winebow, Inc., a leading U.S. importer and distributor of fine wine, craft spirits, and sake, is proud to announce that it has been appointed the exclusive national importer of Tullibardine Scotch whisky.

Located in Blackford, the gateway to the Scottish Highlands, Tullibardine is considered to be one of the true great single malt whiskies of Scotland and has been a location for brewing and distilling since 1488. Today, it is one of the few privately owned distilleries in the business, with a hand-controlled focus on production. Volume is purposely limited to ensure that the artisanal quality of the whisky remains consistent across the entire Tullibardine portfolio.

“We are thrilled to work with an independently owned distillery from the Scottish Highlands,” said Scott Tallon, Winebow’s Director of Spirits. “Tullibardine is now under the ownership of the Picard family and they have done a terrific job identifying the new core range of single malts and creating fantastic packaging. The distillery site is steeped in history and the whisky is fast becoming one of the great whiskies of Scotland with stocks that date back to the 1950s.”

“We look forward to our partnership with Winebow, and appreciate their longstanding commitment to specialty and craft spirits,” says Michel Picard, owner of Tullibardine. “We are excited to work with their sales team, which is respected in the trade for their professionalism, enthusiasm, and knowledge. We see a bright future in the United States as people continue to learn about and appreciate our whiskies.”

Winebow currently distributes Tullibardine in 24 states, with more to follow, and represents the following products:
